

Limited Warranty

All Parts are Under Warranty for one year from date of shipment, and will be replaced by the factory, providing the defective part is first returned, prepaid, by the customer. Defective material will be replaced by the seller, but no further claim whatsoever is allowed, nor will the Seller be subject to any other or further liability on account of such defective material. No cash reimbursement will be allowed for defective parts returned, nor will any repair service, or labor, be allowed without written permission from the factory. Goods of other manufacturers sold by "HBC" are not guaranteed by "HBC" beyond their manufacturer's warranty.

"HBC" does NOT warranty the use, application, misuse, alteration of design or engineering of the boiler, burner, controls, or other items supplied, not attachment of nor change of any of these items.

CLAIMS: Manufacturer's responsibility for damage or loss ceases when shipment is received for by carrier. Goods should be examined carefully before signing the freight receipt. Buyer must require the carrier to make notation on freight bill of any damage or missing parts, and Buyer must make claim for same against the carrier.

SPECIFICATIONS: Manufacturer reserves the right to change specifications of its products without notice.

Differences with workmen, accidents to plant or machinery, delays in transportation or storage of cars, failure of usual source of Seller's supplies or material, fire flood, strike, or courses beyond seller's control, shall be sufficient excuse for delay in making shipment.

Boilers herein are subject to the required hydrostatic test, and a certificate that they have been satisfactorily tested and made tight before shipment is issued by a qualified insurance company. Seller assumes no responsibility for subsequent tests after boiler has left Seller's plant.

Seller shall not be responsible for draft conditions, spotting, switching or demurrage charge; unloading boilers at railroad or truck point of delivery; hauling boilers from railroad point of delivery to job site; unloading boilers at job site; rigging boilers on foundations; drayage at destination; or inconvenience, delays, or expense caused by the railroad or truck company not delivering the shipment promptly or at the job site during the Purchaser's work hours, All of these are at the Purchaser's expense and responsibility.

TAX: Any tax imposed by any present or future law of the Federal, State, or other governmental authority on the manufacture, and/or sale of the equipment quoted shall be added to the amount to be paid by the purchaser.

DAMAGED FREIGHT

Are you aware that before you sign the carrier's freight bill (bill of lading), you are responsible for checking for visible damage?

If the damage is visible have the delivering driver mark your freight bill "DAMAGED" before signing it. If the damage is concealed (visible only after you sign the freight bill and opened the carton) you are responsible for notifying the delivering carrier within the same work day. Insist on a damage inspection by the carrier.

Do not throw away the carton.

It will be viewed by the person making the inspection report.

Are you aware that you are responsible for checking the carton count on your freight bill before signing it?

All freight bills should be marked as to the specific shortage by the delivering carrier before you sign them.

Once you sign the freight bill, you have release the delivering carrier for all liability.

The exception is the concealed damage claim.
